

UNIPRO 2017 SPRING CONFERENCE

MORIAL CONVENTION CENTER • NEW ORLEANS, LA • MARCH 19-22, 2017

MAPLEVALE FARMS RECEIVES UNIPRO KEY DISTRIBUTOR AWARD

Maplevale Farms, Falconer, New York received the UniPro Foodservice 2016 Key Distributor Award at UniPro's Spring Conference in New Orleans, Louisiana. UniPro CEO Bob Stewart presented the award at UniPro's annual Awards Luncheon held this year in the Morial Convention Center.

The UniPro Key Distributor Award recognizes UniPro member companies for their exceptional accomplishments and growth, for their dedicated participation in UniPro Procurement, Logistics, Sales and Marketing programs and for their strong commitment to the UniPro organization.

Maplevale Farms operates from a 200,000+ square foot building in Falconer, New York. Today, purchasing from over 300 manufacturers and offering more than 10,000 products, Maplevale Farms has gradually grown from its humble beginnings into one of the area's leading foodservice distributors. The Maplevale Farms service area includes Western New York, Northwestern Pennsylvania, and Northeastern Ohio.

Maplevale Farms would like to thank their loyal customers and hard working associates, without them the honor of receiving this award would not be possible.

Maplevale Farms has been a member of UniPro Foodservice since 1973.

UniPro Foodservice is the nation's largest independent foodservice distribution cooperative, operating from more than 700 distributor locations. UniPro members serve all segments of the foodservice industry, including independent restaurants, healthcare operations, schools, military bases, and convenience stores.

left to right: Scott Strull, EVP Sales West - UniPro; Bob Stewart, CEO - UniPro; Julie Dunderdale, Director of Merchandising - Maplevale Farms; Chris Loomis, EVP - Maplevale Farms; John Stevens, Regional VP Sales - UniPro; Don Gilligan, EVP Sales East - UniPro